Coseer Awarded Best Intelligent Workflow Technology

We are thrilled that Coseer has been judged as the Best Intelligent Workflow Technology in US for the year by Capital Finance Institute. The Editorial Panel writes:

"Providing superpowers to repetitive and predictable workflows via tactical cognitive software allows companies to free-up valuable staff time in order that workers may concentrate on creative tasks and exercise judgment at crucial junctions. Confined and entrusted to technology, routine tasks – the bane of many a professional – are effectively outsourced."

We are excited about this announcement, and feel grateful to our customers who nominated us for the award in the first place. If you need help automating workflows at your enterprise, set up a meeting with our tech team.
